

Terry Reynoldson, Evaluation of Instruction
Comments from Continuing Education Students in Design Principles
Winter, 2012

What did you like about this course? Please identify specific components that contributed to your learning.

1. I loved the projects and how that was how we learned the principles of design. Terry was an amazing teacher, going over the top to help us students. He demonstrated, explained, critiqued (previous classes work).
2. Terry is a great teacher, very enthusiastic and willing to share his personal experiences with us. The critique of projects was extremely helpful.
3. In this course, we worked on a variety of projects which helped us to learn the elements and principles of design as well as creativity.

What suggestions do you have for improving the course?

1. Nothing that I can think of at all. I've enjoyed this class much more than I thought I would.
2. More time to work on projects in class. I found the critique of our previous project very useful and would not want to lose this experience, however maybe a more balanced use of time would be helpful. I did not find I benefited from Terry showing us in detail how to do each project - this was time I would have preferred to spend working on the project.
3. I think having a field trip to the accessible exhibitions and getting familiar with the current artists' work would complete this course.

You get the last word.... Is there anything else you would like us to know?

1. I'd love it if Terry taught more cont ed. classes, he's a great teacher!
2. Regarding the certificate program I am not satisfied with the response I received to apply 2 courses from ACAD to the certificate. These are courses that are not offered by U of C. The course selection at U of C for the certificate program is very limited for the straight Art Theory and Practice and students should receive credit for other courses not offered by U of C. Woodblock printmaking is not the same as etching.
3. Mr. Terry Reynoldson is one of the most dedicated teachers I have ever had. I would like to say thank you to him for his valuable teaching. I wish the other teachers especially in the interior design courses were as dedicated and enthusiastic in their teaching as he is.
